COSUMNES RIVER COLLEGE

Letter from the President

May 23, 2025

Dear CRC Graduate,

Congratulations graduate! We want to commend you on this extraordinary achievement from Cosumnes River College. Those of us at CRC celebrate what you have accomplished and hope your experience here was a place where you not only received a great education, but made life-long friends in the process.

CRC has prepared you with the skills you will need as you go out into the world to face whatever challenges confront you. It doesn't matter if you are heading straight into the workforce or transferring to university, you will face obstacles. But I'm not worried, and you shouldn't be either. You have each put in the work, hours of study, had moments of doubt, and sparks of inspiration, and now you are here, ready to move forward.

We are proud of you and excited to share in this moment of celebration. As you move forward, I hope you remember your time here at Cosumnes River College with fondness. I know many of you will stay connected to some of your professors or staff who made a difference in your life. I wish the best for each one of you on your future goals and consider it a pleasure to have had you with us.

I wish you much success in all your future endeavors. Congratulations to you, the class of 2025!

Sincerely,

Cosumnes River College

Our Vision

Our Mission

Cosumnes River College provides an innovative, equitable, and inclusive path for all students in our diverse communities to achieve their educational, career, and personal goals. We promote the timely attainment of associate degrees, certificates, and transfer to other institutions and support the pursuit of individual enrichment and career aspirations. We uphold excellence in teaching and learning through diverse educational opportunities and effective student services.

Our Values

Cosumnes River College's culture is built upon a foundation of respect, compassion, empathy, and shared decision-making. We value equity, inclusion, cultural humility, innovation, academic integrity, and sustainability. We embrace anti-racism and social justice for the communities we serve.

Our Commitment to Equity

Education should belong to everyone. To nourish this inclusion, CRC champions equity, diversity, social justice, and environmental sustainability as foundational to academic, campus, and community life. We work with the communities we serve toward just and fair inclusion into society in which all people can participate, prosper, and reach their full potential. We commit to equity driven decision-making, planning, and reflective processes that are responsive to the diverse identities and experiences in our community.

We seek to empower marginalized voices, nurture our many identities and social circumstances, foster cultural responsiveness, and stand against all manifestations of discrimination, including (but not limited to) those based on: ability statuses, age, ancestry, body size, citizenship/immigration status, economic status, educational status, employment status, ethnicity, food/housing insecurity, gender, gender identity, gender expression, incarceration experience, language, marital/partner status, military/veteran status, national origin, neurodiversity, political affiliation, pregnancy/reproductive status, race/racial identity, religion, sex, and sexual orientation.

Land Acknowledgment

We acknowledge the land currently occupied by Cosumnes River College as the traditional home of the Miwok and Nisenan people. These sovereign people have been caretakers of the area since time immemorial. The state of California is home to more than 110 Federally Recognized Indian Tribes, representing the most diverse set of tribal nations anywhere in the United States. Despite centuries of genocide and occupation, the Miwok and Nisenan people continue as vibrant and resilient federally recognized tribes, bands, and rancherias. The waters of the Sacramento, American, and Cosumnes Rivers have nourished Miwok and Nisenan tribal communities with cultural and dietary sustenance throughout time. ‘Cosumnes’ of Cosumnes River derives from the Plains Miwok language. Stemming from the words “kosumu,” meaning salmon and “umne,” meaning the place of, it translates as “The Place of the Salmon.” Today, we celebrate our Miwok and Nisenan tribal neighbors as the ancestral stewards of this land and honor their sustained existence. It is with their blessing and continued guidance that Cosumnes River College seeks to provide an accessible, equitable, and principled institution of learning.

The Academic Procession

In colleges and universities, academic degrees are conferred at commencement exercises. Originally, the term meant the inception of the student graduate as a teacher and their recognition as such by their master and other members of the procession. Thus, the term once marked an actual beginning.

The processional and recession of students and faculty dressed in academic regalia is a traditional part of these commencement exercises. The history of academic dress goes back to the medieval universities. In the 12th and 13th centuries, when universities were taking form, they were under the jurisdiction of the church. Those studying wore a habit or cloak to which was attached a cowl or hood which could be pulled up over the head or thrown back, according to weather conditions. Later, the gown served the dual purpose of providing warmth in the unheated halls as well as uniformity of dress.

The hood seems to have had three uses: a covering, a shoulder cape, and a bag for collecting alms. It is believed that when large wigs were worn, the cape part of the hood was cut open in front and the entire garment, cape and hood proper, was allowed to fall back, producing approximately the effect seen today. After wigs went out of fashion, the original shape was not restored. The master's and bachelor's gowns have no trimming. The gown for the doctor's degree is faced down the front with black velvet with three bars of the same across the sleeves; or these facings and cross bars may be of velvet of the color distinctive of the faculty or subject to which the degree pertains.

The cap is an essential part of the academic dress and it is to be retained on the head throughout all academic exercises. In particular, the cap is not to be removed at any point in the conferment of a degree.

All hoods are lined with silk showing the official colors of the institution which conferred the degree, and all are trimmed in specified widths with velvet signifying the degree as follows:

Agriculture	Maize

Commerce and Accountancy	Drab

The Cosumnes River College Emeriti Association (CRCEA) was formed to help maintain personal and professional relationships, to provide information beneficial to former staff, to stimulate student achievement through scholarship programs, and to recognize staff for their outstanding contributions to the students and the College. To stay involved, retiring faculty and staff are encouraged to join the Emeriti Association at Cosumnes River College.

For more information on joining the Emeriti Association, please visit crc.losrios.edu/about-us/support-us/emmeriti-association.
