Happy April, Hawks!

The Elk Grove Center is excited to share our April edition of CRC's EGC Highlights with you! This newsletter aims to promote student success by highlighting accessible resources. As the fourth month of the semester begins, we want you to know that you're nearly at the finish line! Here, you will find useful information on our center services, as well as general information, upcoming news and events, study tips, and more.

Library Services: Access library services from the center. You can borrow, return, and hold books, just like on main campus.

>>>> APRIL STUDY TIP: PRIORITIZING

Through prioritizing, you are able to focus on and learn about what is most important to help you succeed. As a student, using weekends to plan ahead and building go-to study habits can prevent stress during the week.

Knowing the effect your classes will have on you during each week can help you create a life-school balance that is healthy and sustainable.

>>>> APRIL STUDY TIP: INTERVIEW WITH A STUDENT

Ryan, a Political Science major, says that when prioritizing, "time management is your friend. I make a list of all the readings and due dates listed in each course syllabus, and schedule what needs to get done and when."

Prioritizing keeps Ryan on track each day, and he never gets surprised by due dates or big projects. It never hurts to get started early on any assignments.
